“WOOD-FREE” GARAGE DOORS OPEN UP A WHOLE NEW WORLD FOR AUSTIN- AREA HOMEOWNERS

The distinction of a real wood garage door can add depth and beauty to your home - but the expense and inconvenience can sometimes outweigh the benefits.

However - if you still crave the beauty of real wood - you're in luck!

Cedar Park Garage Doors is now offering the very latest industry innovation: Wood-Free doors - which beautifully mimic the sumptuous look of real wood, but without the added hassle. In fact, Hutchins Garage Doors and its sister company are the only authorized installers in the greater Austin area offering this new innovation.

Although they are indeed elegant and can value add to your home, real wood doors require re-staining every few years, are heavier than conventional steel doors and can chip, splinter and become bug-infested.

Says Don Grenier, owner of Hutchins Garage Doors: “Many people love the look of real wood but are not willing to deal with the upkeep of an authentic wood door, which needs to be refinished regularly.

“Best of all,” says Don, “Wood-Free doors are available in six beautiful colors that will suit any house style or trim.”

The benefits of Wood-Free doors are many:

- Wood-Free doors are elegant and beautiful, simulating the look of real wood;
- Wood-Free doors are low-maintenance and highly durable; they do not splinter, crack or mold;

- Wood-Free doors never have to be re-stained;
- Wood-Free doors are tougher than steel;
- Wood-Free doors can be repainted to your taste at any time;
- Wood-Free doors are highly insulated; and
- Wood-Free doors are guaranteed by Hutchins Garage Doors for five years from installation!
